Spring breakers lend a hand

George Mason University students volunteer their spring break to build an oyster reef as part of the Oyster Reef Restoration Project.

A group of students from George Mason University in Washington D.C. volunteered their spring break to help the estuary by building an oyster reef as part of the Oyster Reef Restoration Project.

The event is part of the nearshore component of the Oyster Reef Restoration Project in collaboration with Florida Oceanographic Society.

The public can take part in the following Oyster Reef Restoration events:

Oyster Bagging at 9 a.m. on April 16 and April 30 at Britt Point (on the north side of the old Roosevelt Bridge in Stuart)

Oyster Deployment at 9 a.m. on May 14 at Flagler Park in Stuart.
